

What Is LGL Comprehension Edge?

LGL Comprehension Edge is one online differentiated instructional product within the LGL Edge Series which teaches advanced understanding of textbooks and literature at the 5th to 9th grade reading levels. Depending on the level of comprehension of the secondary or adult student as determined by DORA, he or she may be placed into different levels of LGL Comprehension Edge. This differentiation allows students to skip material they have already mastered while still targeting the two crucial areas of reading comprehension for this level: vocabulary and comprehension strategies.

How It Works

Let's Go Learn's Diagnostic Online Reading Assessment (DORA) serves as the foundation for LGL Comprehension Edge. DORA diagnostically assesses students in seven subskills of reading, adapting to students as they respond to each question in the online program. Immediately after the assessment, students who qualify for instruction are automatically transitioned into powerful online reading lessons addressing only the skills that each student requires.

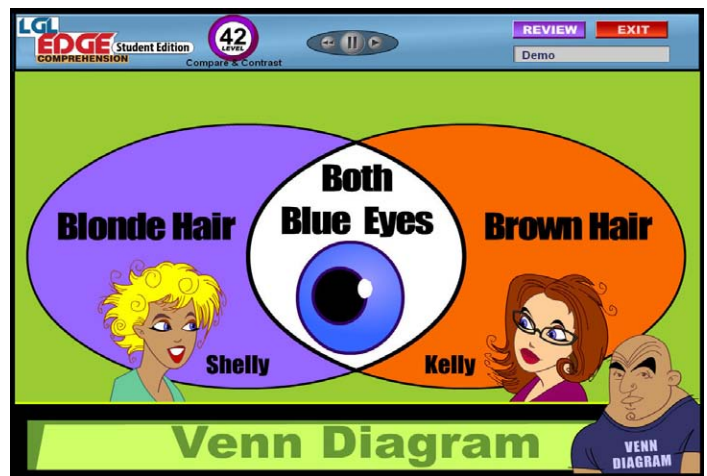

With the LGL Edge Series, students complete only the lessons they need without wasting time on materials they have already mastered. This is very important for secondary and adult students who are already struggling.

"I recently began using LGL Comprehension Edge with my fourth to sixth graders. I was so impressed with it for many reasons. First, the lessons are well thought out. They are sequenced in a way that makes sense developmentally, following along with a typical school curriculum. Second, the material is presented in a lively and interesting way. Kids are so often 'turned off' to lessons. With LGL Comprehension Edge, they can't wait to get started. Finally, as their teacher, LGL Comprehension Edge allows me to see exactly what level each child is up to, and is thus easy to incorporate into our own curriculum. At our center, we work towards helping kids not only read at grade level, but towards helping them develop a love of reading. LGL Comprehension Edge helps us accomplish our goals. I highly recommend it!!"

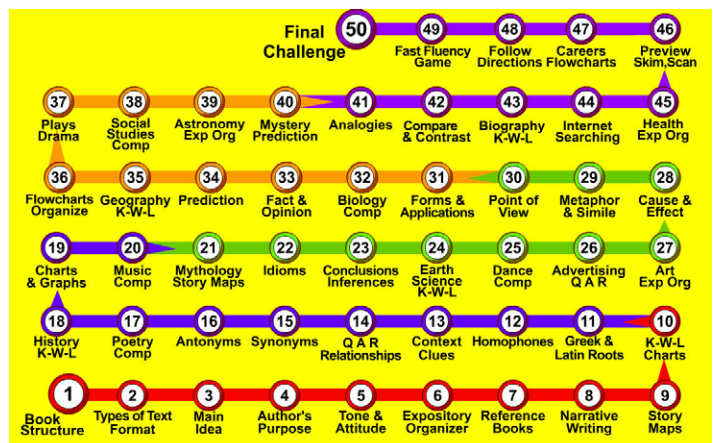

- Laura Reisler, Director, Park Slope Communication

What Makes It Unique:

It takes a certain kind of program to show fast, proven results with secondary and adult students. LGL Comprehension Edge does just that through high-interest materials, songs, video, and games, with an emphasis on young adult/teenage culture to engage secondary and adult students and encourage them in the classroom. LGL Comprehension Edge doesn't offer bland instruction and drill-and-kill practice but instead provides exciting, interactive lessons, detailed step-by-step feedback on student practice, and a motivation system that encourages students to turn failure into success!

▲ Cutting-edge design with a Hollywood persona keeps students engaged, especially at-risk students whose motivation is often in need of bolstering. Custom tunes and music are interwoven into lessons making the lessons, seem more like entertainment for students.

▲ Real-time scoring allows students to get immediate feedback and encouragement. Students are motivated to reach "silver" and "gold" levels across 50 lessons. Sections can be reviewed in order to focus on areas of difficulty.

Who Is It Useful For?

LGL Comprehension Edge helps students who can decode proficiently but struggle to understand what they read, both in textbooks and in literature. LGL Comprehension Edge is ideal for students with or without special needs, including students with learning disabilities, dyslexia, auditory processing difficulties, attention deficits, and behavioral problems. LGL Comprehension Edge is also a great tool for students with limited English proficiency who have intermediate English speaking skills and are proficient English readers but need to understand English at a higher level. LGL Comprehension Edge is also very appropriate for adult learners because of the more sophisticated graphics and high-interest materials.

Why LGL Comprehension Edge?

- 50 focused lessons, targeting vocabulary and comprehension strategies development for middle and high school students.
- Targets the large group of at-risk secondary students who have the profile of proficient decoding with low comprehension strategy abilities.
- Highly engaging lessons that motivate students to succeed with high-interest materials, songs, video, and games.
- DORA assessment data ensures that teachers can individually plan for each student's needs beyond LGL Comprehension Edge or any other Let's Go Learn supplemental instruction.
- Easy to use for teachers and students and 100% web accessible.

The screenshot shows a digital learning interface. At the top, there are buttons for 'LEVEL 13', 'POINTS 0', and '+POINTS 9'. Below these are 'EXIT' and 'REVIEW' buttons, and the name 'Jonathan'. The main text area contains a passage: "There was a bitter conflict in school today. The students did not agree as to how they should spend the prize money they had won. They argued for hours. Some kids wanted to go on a field trip. Others wanted to buy some books with it. In the end the teacher found a way to do both, and end the conflict." Below the passage is a question: "What does the word 'conflict' mean in this passage?" There are three radio button options: "disagreement", "meeting", and "assembly". A cartoon character is visible on the right side of the interface.

▲ Engaging passages and the fast pace of LGL Comprehension Edge keep students motivated and on track during lessons. Explicit instruction proceeds each reinforced activity.

Choosing the Right Edge?

LGL Reading Edge and LGL Comprehension Edge work together to target the two most common reading profiles of secondary to adult remedial readers. After students complete a DORA assessment, teachers or parents place students into either LGL Reading Edge or LGL Comprehension Edge. DORA data will automatically be pulled at the commencement of the selected instruction to ensure that students are only given the lessons needed within either of the LGL Edge products.

An OAASIS™ from Traditional Assessment

Administrators and teachers who need relief from time and labor-intensive assessments now have a solution. OAASIS™, Let's Go Learn's Online Adaptive Assessment System for Individual Students, is a proprietary technology-based platform that simultaneously tests and reports on multiple skills while adapting to each learner's individual ability in real time as a human would. OAASIS serves as the foundation for all Let's Go Learn's assessment and instructional solutions.

Getting Started

To speak with a customer service representative or request a free trial, please contact us today:

Phone 1-888-618-READ (7323)
Web www.letsgolearn.com
Email sales@letsgolearn.com
Free trial www.letsgolearn.com/trial.html